

Who are You?

Grade Level: 6-8

Objectives	At the beginning of each school year, all teachers like to have some background information about their students. This is a good way to get to know your students and for your students to “break the ice” in the classroom. At the end of this lesson, your students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Present a SlideServe show of themselves</li><li>• Describe another person in the class</li><li>• Make friends with someone new in class</li></ul>
Materials	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• SlideServe</li><li>• Power Point</li></ul>
Procedures	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Students will create a Power Point presentation about themselves including names, ages, where they’re are from, and something interesting about themselves.</li><li>2. Convert the slide show into a SlideServe presentation.</li><li>3. Partner up with a classmate and present the shows to the class.</li></ol>
Evaluation	Students can be quizzed about the information given during their presentations. It would be a good idea to jot down some notes during each presentation. Students can also be asked to state the facts they learned about their partners. In all, this is a good way for the class to get to know each other and feel comfortable in the classroom.
