Secondary Lesson Plan

Projecting your voice onstage
Audience: High School Acting Class

| Prior Knowledge                  | - use of the internet
|                                 | - memorization of lines
|                                 | - breathing

| ISTE/NETS Standards             | 1. Facilitate and Inspire Student Learning and Creativity

| Objective                      | The objective is to have the students work on projecting their voice in front of a crowd while reciting lines

| Materials                      | - relaxation techniques
|                                 | - practice
|                                 | - confidence
|                                 | - reading or singing material

| Procedure                      | 1. Introduce the lesson to the class
|                                 | 2. Have the students select a monologue to read
|                                 | 3. Have your students watch the video
|                                 | 4. Give them a day to practice and memorize their lines
|                                 | 5. Have them read their monologue in front of the class

| Assessment                     | The student will be assessed by how well the student projects his voice in the auditorium of the school. The students will go in alphabetical order unless they volunteer to go earlier.  