Objectives
The objective of this lesson is to teach beginning Spanish to 8th grade students, by listening to songs that are in Spanish. The students will be asked to listen to different songs that have been edited by Wavosaur. The students will be given a handout that has the song lyrics on them, but some of the words have been taken out. They will have to listen for certain words and phrases that have been left out, and fill them in on the handout.

Materials
- Computer
- Pencils
- Paper
- Handout
- Candy

Procedure
1. The students will be given a handout with the song lyrics, but some of the words will be left out, and a blank space will be there instead.
2. The students will have five minutes to read the handout.
3. Each song has been edited so that the words that are missing on the paper are louder when the song is played.
4. The students will listen to each song twice and try to pick out the words
5. After the students have filled in their papers, they will find a partner.
6. Each student and their partner will go over each other’s paper to see if they found all the words.
7. After the students have found as many words as they can, they will recite one sentence to the class.
8. The teacher will collect the handouts, and the group that found the most correct words will be given a piece of candy.

Assessment
The students will be graded on a rubric, on how many correct words they found when listening to the songs. The rubric is:
- 9-10 words - A
- 7-8 words - B
- 5-6 words - C
- 3-4 words - D
- Less than 3 words - F
