Welcome to the Communicators Online Repository (CORE)

As a Purdue marketer, what you do is about impact — engaging with audiences through compelling communication, creativity and strategy. You belong to a strong, essential, world-class community that draws on each others’ experiences and is strengthened through collaboration. You know the Purdue University brand. You live it every day.

So use this curation of contributions from all areas of campus to keep doing the great work you do.

(Note: Please log in at top right using your career account credentials to see the rest of the CORE.)
